

“We will continue to believe in who we are and cook as we know how, without giving up anything that has been built so far, and with the search for excellence and customer service as the backbone of our project.”

Oriol Castro, Eduard Xatruch and Mateu Casañas

Creation of CXC

The creation of the CXC brand was born out of the need to encompass all the projects we currently have under the same umbrella, without intervening in their own characteristic images

About our professional career

Chefs de cuisine at elBulli for 15 years (1996-2011)

We have a total of 15 years' experience as chefs at elBulli - led by Ferran Adrià and Juli Soler-, whose cuisine was considered the most influential of the 20th century by critics and professionals in the sector. Between 1996 and until the restaurant closed, in July 2011, we were part of the creative cooking team.

And we remained active working, together with Ferran, on the conceptualization of the Bullipedia until November 2014.

And in 2012, we decided to become partners

Being 100% independent, without third parties within the business.

We are totally autonomous and free.

Since then we have opened Compartir in Cadaqués (2012) and Disfrutar in Barcelona (2014). The gastronomic consultancy (2018) and created the Brand CXC (2021).
